

1. The best producers of Canadian content work for CBC Radio, but they're starving for support, and it shows (no more drama, less local current affairs, reruns galore, foreign content). Radio needs more resources -- people and money. CBC TV is almost irrelevant now, so take a bit of money from TV & give it to radio -- they can do a lot more with it.

2. Keep CBC Radio ad-free.

3. Make the CBC News channel free on the Web. it's very annoying when important events for Canadians are broadcast on a channel that requires a cable subscription. This should not be allowed. Canadians should be able to access freely all content produced by CBC.
